

Biography

Ella Ouimet

Saratoga Springs High School Leader
Future Voice within American Female Voters

Ella Ouimet is a senior at Saratoga Springs High School. Ella is an active voice in our community, attending civil protests in Washington DC, Albany, and Saratoga Springs in support of issues impacting women's rights and welfare, including gun control and climate change. Currently at age 17, Ella will gain her constitutional right to vote as a woman in America in the coming year.

She is heavily involved in her community through volunteerism for organizations such as Project Lift, Saratoga YMCA, Pitney Meadows, and participates in various volunteer and academic opportunities through National Honor Society. Ella has been a member of the high schools Best Buddies club for the past four years and is currently the clubs Walk Officer, who is Saratoga's representative organizer for the Albany Friendship Walk where hundreds of attendees from schools across the Capital Region fundraise for the club. She also volunteers for New York Special Olympics and participates in Unified Basketball and Bowling teams.

A brilliant young woman, Ella takes an intensive school schedule including AP and honors courses and has been on the high honor roll throughout her entire school career. She is in the final year of a 3-year science research project where she is examining the correlational relationship between fluctuating autistic behaviors and depressive symptoms in people with ASD, with the goal of creating an easier method for the early detection of depression. She is currently interning at Maple Avenue Middle School in the Speech Language Pathology department, which she intends to pursue after high school.

Ella has been on the Varsity Softball team since sophomore year, plays competitive softball with Adirondack Extreme travel team, is on the school Alpine Ski Racing team, is the former Secretary of Future Leaders of Medicine Club, and is involved in Cure Club.
